

Reading Record

STEP RIGHT UP

...and set your summer reading goal! Make it your own – try a mix of reading, attending library programs and using library resources to learn something new. Really, you decide! For younger children, sprinkle early literacy activities in with reading and library programs.

For example, you could choose to:

- read for 20 minutes 4 times a week
- read a total of 6 books during the summer
- read for 5 hours each week and attend 2 library programs

your progress and hit your goal!

This summer, my goal is to...

MAY 23 - JULY 27

Crush your summer reading goal, then bring this reading record to any Worthington Libraries location for your prize!
